Whiskey Element.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
MEHERRIN, VA., July 25.—There is no doubt among the average politicians

n Lunenburg county that the main is sue in the present campaign to elect ;

uccessor to Hon, T. A. Overby in th

Legislature will be the Mann bill. Mr.

Overby announced several months ago

that he would not be a candidate for re-election, as he would sometime this fall

where he will in future make his hom forth, who has for several years been announced that he would be a candidat-to succeed the Incumbent. It is well known to the people that Mr. Bridgeforth is in opposition to the whiskey traffic, and the people at large seemed well satisfied with the announcement, and it was for sometime a conceded fact that the people were quite sure that he would enter the legislative hall without any opposition, and it was quite a surprise to a large majority of them that Mr. William H. Rutledge, who is a prominent distiller of this county, announced several weeks ago that he would oppose Mr.

He said that a short while ago attention was called to the market by the statement that the strike had hampered public sales seri-"Our experience has been just the dte." he declared. "Our auction sales clent to justify the property being sold we would state that eight of the adding strength to our claim. Oppress not the oppressed, neither detract from the merits of Richmond real estate."

As evidence of his statements, Mr. Rose gives out the appended sales:

July 17th—Building lot, Barton Heights, to Mrs. Cora C. Clayton, $299.

July 17th—Building lot, Barton Heights, to Mrs. Cora C. Clayton, $299.

July 17th—Building lot, Barton Heights, to Mrs. Rosa G. Yowell, $200.

Total, $22,965.

Unfortunately, the experience of Messrs. Rose and Company is believed to be exceptional. One agent stated yesterday that his firm had not made but one sale during the past week, and that was for only $100. Other firms declared that they had not done enough to make a report. Three firms declared that they had done very well, one saying that he had done better than for several weeks. The stitke has injured sales mainly in outlying districts, as the people could not reach the property easily, and for the reason also that the pepular mind was distracted from business during a part of the time.

The Southern Hat Works, of Petersburg, will soon be removed to Richmond. The hat plant has been located in Petersburg for many years, but two years ago the concern was incorporated under the name of the Southern Hat Works with 1 Kanef.

HOW MR. RUTLEDGE STANDS.

Mr. Rutledge is an advocate of the whiskey issue, as his position in this county shows, and in addition to his distillery, he has for several years operated a saloon at Keysville and in this county up to this year, when the Mann bill forced him from the retail business. There is little doubt among the people that the whiskey men of this and other counties in the State induced him to enter the field. Both men are staunch Democrats and very popular in the county, and there is no doubt that the friends of both candidates will work hard to elect their favorite. It is very hard to estimate the liquor sentiment in this county, as no election along this line has ever been held within its borders, and the reports from this source have been very meagre during the past few years, but it is thought that should this question be put to a test, the liquor element would go down in defeat. No primary will be held under the present circumstances to nominate a candidate, and no Republican will be put in the field, and it is thought that the majority of voters from this party will be cast for Mr. Rutledge, as well as a large share of the Democrats. There has always been a "red hot" fight in the county over this office, and it is quite evident that no less interest will be taken by the people than has been heretofore, and it can be seen that Mr. Bridgeforth will be compelled to keep moving in order to down his opponent. Both of these candidates have strong, hard-working backers and both sides of the Mann bill will do their utmost to get their main in.

FIGHT FOR TREASURER.

There is quite a stir across the line in Prince Edward county over the office of treasurer. Mr. W. H. Ewing, the present incumbent, who has held the office with entire satisfaction to a large majority of the people, it is said will have opposition for the next term. Mr. Ewing has held this office for the past twelve years without any one opposing him, and his friends feel quite sure that they will experience no trouble in returning him. Mr. W. P.
